Abstract: The research aims to find out the searching strategies undergone by USU undergraduate students on the Clinicalkey database. This is descriptive qualitative research and the informants are determined using purposive sampling. There are 6 informants in this study, namely the students of FK (Faculty of Medicine), FKOG (Faculty of Dentistry), FKM (Faculty of Public Health), FPsi (Faculty of Psychology), FKop (Faculty of Nursing), Ffarm (Faculty of Pharmacy) in USU. Data analysis techniques employed are data reduction, data presentation, and inference conclusion drawing which aims to analyze relevant, meaningful and important data. Data are collected using observation, interviews and documentation. Data are tested using triangulation, namely triangulations of data, theory, and method. The results indicate that the information searched-by the students are related to assignments given by lecturers and they understand the topic before conducting a search. In addition, to determine the subject, they directly conduct a search by using the existing topic titles. At the stage of synonym identification, the students identify them using KBBI then retranslate them using google translate. In formulating queries, there are only a few students use search techniques, namely by using Boolean operators. The students filter their search results again using "By" filter available on the Clinicalkey database when they want to search for information, and by opening the documents one by one because they are not aware that "By" filter is available on the Clinicalkey database. The students also do different ways when evaluating their search results by using "By" filter available on the Clinicalkey database according to their needs. However, not all students save their search results because they are not aware that a storage feature is available on the Clinicalkey database so all students choose to download their findings directly using available features because it is easier and free of charge.

IMPLEMENTATION OF THE INBOUND INDEPENDENT STUDENT EXCHANGE PROGRAM IN DEVELOPING STUDENT SOFT SKILLS (CASE STUDY AT THE FACULTY OF SOCIAL AND POLITICAL SCIENCES UNIVERSITY OF NORTH SUMATRA)

ABSTRACT

Merdeka Belajar Kampus Merdeka (MBKM) is a strategic policy of the Indonesian government that provides opportunities for students to develop competencies outside their study program. One of the programs in MBKM is the inbound independent student exchange, where students from various universities in Indonesia can study for one semester at the receiving university. The main objective of this program is to develop various important soft skills, such as communication skills, leadership, teamwork, and adaptability. The implementation of the Merdeka Inbound Student Exchange Program will be reviewed effectively whether it can develop student soft skills at the Faculty of Social and Political Sciences, University of North Sumatra. This study aims to analyze the implementation of the Merdeka Inbound Student Exchange program in developing students' soft skills at the Faculty of Social and Political Sciences, University of North Sumatra.

The research method used in this research is qualitative with a case study approach. Data collection is done through interviews, observations, and documentation studies. The data were analyzed qualitatively using the indicators of the implementation model of David C. Korten which includes three elements, namely, the program, the implementing organization, and the target group.

The results of this study indicate that the implementation of the inbound independent student exchange program at the Faculty of Social and Political Sciences has contributed significantly in developing various student soft skills, such as effective interpersonal communication skills, solid teamwork skills, critical and creative thinking skills in solving problems, as well as leadership and initiative. The development of these soft skills occurs through various activities in the program, such as interdisciplinary lectures and socio-cultural activities such as the archipelago module involving inbound exchange students. However, there are still some obstacles in the implementation of the program, such as adjustments to the curriculum and learning plans between study programs, socialization and coordination that are not optimal for inbound students and the lack of student participation and support and guidance from lecturers in the archipelago module activities.

ABSTRAK

Merdeka Belajar Kampus Merdeka (MBKM) merupakan kebijakan strategis pemerintah Indonesia yang memberikan kesempatan bagi mahasiswa untuk mengembangkan kompetensi di luar program studi mereka. Salah satu program dalam MBKM adalah pertukaran mahasiswa merdeka inbound, di mana mahasiswa dari berbagai perguruan tinggi di Indonesia dapat belajar selama satu semester di perguruan tinggi penerima. Tujuan utama dari program ini adalah untuk mengembangkan berbagai soft skill penting, seperti keterampilan komunikasi, kepemimpinan, kerjasama tim, dan kemampuan beradaptasi. Implementasi Program Pertukaran Mahasiswa Merdeka Inbound akan ditinjau secara efektif apakah dapat mengembangkan soft skill mahasiswa di Fakultas Ilmu Sosial dan Ilmu Politik Universitas Sumatera Utara. Penelitian ini bertujuan untuk menganalisis implementasi program Pertukaran Mahasiswa Merdeka Inbound dalam mengembangkan soft skill mahasiswa di di Fakultas Ilmu Sosial dan Ilmu Politik Universitas Sumatera Utara.

Metode penelitian yang digunakan dalam penelitian ini adalah kualitatif dengan pendekatan studi kasus. Pengumpulan data dilakukan melalui wawancara, observasi, dan studi dokumentasi. Data analisis secara kualitatif dengan menggunakan indikator model implementasi dari David C. Korten yang meliputi tiga elemen yakni, program, organisasi pelaksana, dan kelompok sasaran.

Hasil penelitian ini menunjukkan bahwa implementasi program pertukaran mahasiswa merdeka inbound di Fakultas Ilmu Sosial dan Ilmu Poltik sudah cukup berkontribusi secara signifikan dalam mengembangkan berbagai soft skill mahasiswa, yaitu seperti kemampuan komunikasi interpersonal yang efektif, keterampilan kerja sama dalam tim yang solid, kemampuan berpikir kritis dan kreatif dalam memecahkan masalah, serta kepemimpinan dan inisiatif. Pengembangan soft skill tersebut terjadi melalui berbagai aktivitas dalam program, seperti perkuliahan lintas disiplin dan kegiatan sosial-budaya seperti modul nusantara yang melibatkan mahasiswa pertukaran inbound. Namun, masih terdapat beberapa kendala dalam implementasi program, seperti penyesuaian kurikulum dan rencana pembelajaran antar program studi, sosialisasi dan koordinasi yang belum optimal bagi mahasiswa inbound dan kurangnya partisipasi mahasiswa serta dukungan dan pembinaan dari dosen dalam kegiatan modul nusantara.
